

See, Look and Watch

Did you see that bird?

I saw you at school yesterday.

It's too dark, I can't see.

I want to see my brother, but he lives in California.

I see a lot of garbage by the bus stop.

I'll see if he will help me.

I don't see what you are saying.

Look at my new car. Isn't it beautiful?

Please look at the teacher.

Look both ways before you walk across the street.

Jason was looking for you.

I lost my keys and looked for them everywhere.

I'm looking for room 1402.

We will look for bananas at the grocery store.

Look up in the sky! It's an airplane.

I like to watch TV and movies.

Watch out! A car is coming.

Watching people dance is fun.

Are you going to watch the fireworks?

It's difficult to speak when people are watching me.

Watch me do this, Mommy!

I watched the news last night.

Write see, look or watch.

1. _____ under the table.

2. I'm _____ a movie now.

3. The room is dark. I can't _____ much.

4. Did you _____ the news last night?

5. _____ out! It's icy here.

6. The police are _____ for a tall man.

7. I need to _____ that newspaper please.

8. You can _____ if Target as rain boots.

9. Can you _____ the TV ok?

10. _____ at me Daddy!

11. Did you _____ the huge lightning just now?

12. Did you _____ TV last night?

13. Can you help me? I'm _____ for the shoes.

14. Where were you? I was _____ for you.

15. Please _____ for my wallet.

16. She likes to _____ the rain fall.

17. You should _____ up a better price online.

18. It's so good to _____ you, my friend!

19. Will you _____ my dog while I'm gone?

See, Look, Watch 2

See: notice something; physical eyesight; understand

I can't see. Please turn on the lights.

Have you seen my car? I can't find it in this huge parking lot.

When we arrived at the state fair, we saw so many people. There was a lot to see.

Look: moving your eyes to something; pay attention; not usually moving; often used with prepositions such as at, for, up, down, around, etc.

You should look at the teacher when she's talking.

I'm looking for a gas station. Do you know where one is?

My sister's car is dead, so she's looking for a new car.

Let me look on Google maps and find the directions.

Look at my new shoes. Aren't they cool?!

Watch: focused attention; something is usually moving or changing; sometimes used with prepositions such as out or for.

Watch out! It's slippery on the sidewalk.

Please watch your step

I'm going to watch the new Star Wars movie on Friday.

Did you watch the news last night?

1. I _____ a video about English grammar last night.
2. The parents _____ at old photos of their kids last week.
3. The teacher will _____ at the students' tests tonight.
4. Did you _____ the crazy storm last night?
5. I like _____ soccer games.
6. _____ at the rainbow. Isn't it beautiful?
7. It's difficult to speak when I know people are _____ me.
8. I _____ many people doing bad stuff in my parking lot.
9. Yes, I can _____ what you mean.
10. _____ up at that huge jet airplane. It's so big and loud.
11. Let me _____ if I can find someone to help you _____ for that dress.
12. Hey. I _____ you at the mall last weekend.
13. _____ me jump off this slide, Daddy!