

Rose's Factory Job

I have two jobs. I work the day shift in a factory. I go to the factory at 7:45. I punch my card in the time clock. I go to the women's locker room. I put on my work clothes. Then I go to my work table. I polish big pieces of steel. I have to wear safety gloves and glasses. I use heavy tools.

I have many friends at work. I like to talk to other people during break. The work is hot and dirty. My job is hard. I don't like the job, but I have to work.

Dr. Baker's Job

I am a doctor. I work ten hours a day. My work day starts at 7:00. I walk to the hospital. I operate in the morning. Then I visit my patients in the hospital. I talk to the nurses and doctors. We talk about my patients. I eat lunch at 12:00. Then I go to my office. Patients come and see me until 7:00. I give check-ups and prescribe medicine. At 8:00 I eat dinner at home with my wife, Lisa. Sometimes my patients have emergencies at night. They call me at home. Then I go to their houses or to the hospital.

Fred's Jobs

I'm retired now. I worked for 45 years. I had many different jobs. My first job was in a clock factory. I assembled clocks. Then I went into the army. After the army, I worked in a printing company. We printed magazines. I liked the job but the pay was not good. Then I became a truck driver. I liked this job, but I worked long hours. Sometimes I was away from my family for many days. Our children were very young. Grace said, "Fred, you have to quit this job. We need you at home." So I quit.

My last job was in a lumber factory. I was a fork lift driver. I loaded wood into trucks. I liked this job. The salary was good. The job was easy. Now I am retired. I stay at home. I am thinking about getting a part-time job. I like to work.
